36th BOMB GROUP. (H)

Month of JULY, 1943 36th Bomb Group Capt. W. W. Glass

DAY

- 4th This Group celebrated Independence Day with a fine example of precision bombing. 24 of the 27 A/C taking off, led by Major Raper, successfully bombed the Aircraft Factory at Nantes. Pictures of results indicate, "We wont have to go back here any more". Moderate flak and about 50 enemy fighters were seen. All of our A/C returned to base. Score for the day was 7-2-3.
- 7th Major Henry A. Terry was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and appointed Deputy Group Commander.
- 10th The target today was to have been Villacoublay, but because of 10/10ths cloud the secondary, Caen/Carpiquet Airfield was attacked. Of the 25 of our A/C taking, led by Lt. Vinnedge, 24 got over the target, but because of heavy clouds only 15 of our A/C bombed. Very little opposition was encountered from the enemy. Strike attack photographs show a good concentration on barracks, Officers quarters and Mess Hall. All of our A/C returned safely. Score was 0-0-0.
- 11th Captain Robert P. Riordan was promoted to Major and appointed Commanding Officer of the 369th Squadron.
- 14th Today, Bastille Day, 24 of our A/C took off, led by Captain Salada, and very successfully bombed the repair hangars at Villacoublay, just to the south of Paris.- Ineffective flak was encountered from the enemy coast to Paris. Enemy aircraft attacked in considerable force, out of the sun and most of the tail gunners had a good work out. All of our A/C returned to base with a score for the day of 6-3-5.
- 15th Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson, accompanied by Lt. General Jacob L. Devers, ETO Chief; Maj. General Ira C. Baker, 8th Air Force Commander, and a squad of Brigadier Generals, arrived at our station to personally present the Congressional Medal of Honor to Sgt. Maynard Smith, who as ball turret gunner on Lt. Johnsons crew did such an outstanding job on May 1st of this year. Sgt. Smith was the first person to receive this medal in person in the ETO, the only other award having been made post-humously.
- 17th Our first attempt to bomb the Synthetic Rubber Plant at Hannover, Germany resulted in a recall when our planes were at the Dutch coast. About 30 E/A chased us back over the Channel from the Zuider Zee, All if ~~if~~ our A/C returned to base with their bombs. Our claims for E/A were 3-0-0.

Month of JULY 1943 Captain W. M. Glass

| DAY | |
| 21st | Captain George R. Buckey was promoted to Major. |
| 24th | Today marked our longest trip to a target, the Magnesium Works at Heryya, Norway. It was a low altitude job, our planes cruising at less than 2000 feet enroute and climbing to 15,000 feet to bomb. Of the 21 A/C taking off, led by Lt. Vinnedge, 20 successfully bombed this new plant, which had been just completed. We will not have to go back there again. Flak guns and boats were fairly accurate and we saw some 15 E/A in all. We had no losses and our score for the day was 3-2-0. |
| 26th | 21 of our A/C led by Capt. Salada successfully bombed the Synthetic Rubber Plant at Hannover, our deepest penetration into Germany. In spite of heavy fighter and flak opposition we did an excellent job. Later photographs showed smoke rising to 20,000 feet from the fires which were started. E/A attacks included rockets fired at considerable distance which burst like flak about our strips. F/O Armburst and Lt. Courson, both of the 423rd Sqdn. were shot down over the target, and one of our A/C crash landed in England with all the crew saved. Our score for the day was 4-0-0. |
| 28th | Of the 24 A/C dispatched, 17 A/C, led by Capt. Fuhrmeister, successfully bombed the Aircraft Component Works at Kassel, Germany, even deeper into Enemy territory than Hannover. Flak hit every ship in the entire Group. This was the first time Nickels were carried, and 84,500 were dropped in the target area. On the way out we met about 100 enemy fighters which put up a severe battle until we reached the Dutch coast on the way home. Here we were met by P-47s who gave escort over the Channel. Lt. Peck and Lt. Harris of the 423rd Sqdn. went down over Germany as a result of flak; Lt. Thompson Lt. Kooima of the 367th Sqdn. and Lt. Garnett of the 423rd Sqdn. crash landed in England with none of their crews seriously injured. Our score for the day was 10-2-4. |
| 29th | 18 A/C, led by Capt. Paris, took off for the Submarine Building Area at Kiel. 13 A/C bombed the target. Results could not be observed because of smoke screen. Vicious head-on attacks by about 100 E/A and He 110s experimented further with rockets. The 367th Sqdn. lost F/O B.H. Brown and F/O C.D. Brown. The 369th Sqdn. lost Lt. Conley and Lt. Winters, breaking their remarkable record of completing 42 consecutive missions without a loss. Our score for the day was 6-0-4. |
