Dear Bob:

In my work on the history of the 306th, I need to know a little more about you. I believe you were wounded on your final mission.

How were you wounded and by what?

In the plane or on the ground?

What were conditions inside the plane at bailout?

How did you get out?

Where did you land and in what condition?

How long did it take to be captured, and then given any treatment?

How long were you hospitalized?

Any other observations you may have will be appreciated.

If you find it difficult to sit down to write this, I might suggest that if you have a tape recorder you might make me a tape, which I could in turn copy, and then return the original to you.

Sincerely yours

Russell A. Strong
