

Opelousas, La

Feb 6, 1992

On your article, in Echoes: Who went first I happen to be one, whom left Wendover Utah, at that time for England. We boarded the Queen Elizabeth, and were the first to debark. From there we went by train to Shurligh, where I served thirty eight months as a fuel truck driver. Enclosed you will find a picture of myself refueling a plane, also one of the Shunkface, and a few films which may be of some help to you.
