* SUGGESTION BOX *

SUGGESTION: "A few days ago, they had I.L.P.s on the post waiting to put their fingers on some poor innocent enlisted man whose only minor and unsoon offense was having a fatigue jacket open. Very serious indeed.

By the other night returning to my billet from the post theater, I and many others saw a 2d Lt (and he knows who he is) disgustingly drunk, lying by the roadside. An enlisted man was trying to help him to his feet, which were as shaky as straws in the wind. There wasn't an I.L.P. in sight.

I suggest that some military courtesy and military discipline be drilled into these "Angels" of Commissioned Officers and that the I.L.P.s do just a little more than loafing and cutting into chev lines.

Have you the nerve to print this?"

SUGGESTIONS FOR (contd)

ANSWER: SD has the nerve to and does print everything either wholly or in part. No special consideration is given officers who can't conduct themselves properly. The few M.P.s on the Station can't be everywhere at once or apprehend all offenders - officers or enlisted men. If you objected to the officer's conduct you should have called the M.P.s at the time.

SUGGESTION: "I suggest the elimination of 'henly tank' and 'juke box' music from reveille call. It is beneath the dignity one expects of the United States Army to combine cheap Hollywoodian tricks with what was once purely and simply "First Call"."

ANSWER: SD agrees with you and has obtained approval of the idea. Henceforth, there will be nothing but military marches and pieces played by military bands. You are wrong in one respect, however. Reveille has for many years included more than just First Call and in the peacetime Army it was not unusual for a drum and bugle corps to play for 10 minutes prior to Assembly.
