DESCRIPTION OF MANEUVERS

1. Instrument take-off.—The check pilot will align the airplane with the runway. Pilot will set directional gyro either to zero or the nearest 5° indice of the runway heading, and will take off. Proficiency will be based on ability to hold heading within 3° either side of initial heading and by smoothness of attaining climbing air speed safely.
2. Spiral climb.—The pilot will put the airplane in a standard climbing spiral to the right. After climbing 1,000 feet, he will reverse the direction of turn and climb 1,000 feet more. Proficiency will be based on constant rate of turn, maintenance of proper rate of climb, air speed, and smoothness.
3. Level flight.—The pilot will fly on a given compass heading for 5 minutes. Proficiency will be based on ability to maintain straight and level flight.
4. 90- and 180-degree turns.—The pilot will make turns in each direction. Accuracy, maintenance of constant altitude, and smoothness of control determine proficiency.
5. Steep banks.—The pilot will put the airplane in a bank of 40 to 60 degrees, maintain this bank until a smooth turn is achieved, then return to straight and level flight. No specific amount of turn is required. Proficiency will be based on smoothness of turn and maintenance of constant altitude and safe air speed.
6. Stalls.—The pilot will place the airplane in a glide without flaps with engine completely throttled, slowly reduce the air speed to a complete stall, then regain normal gliding speed. Proficiency will be based on avoidance of any tendency toward a second stall during recovery and on ability to hold the airplane from turning or dropping a wing before the stalling point is reached.
7. Recovery from unusual maneuvers.—The check pilot will place the airplane in an unusual position, then instruct the pilot to take the controls, recover, and resume level flight. Proficiency will be based on ability to recover quickly, smoothly, and reliably; emphasis will be placed on avoidance of diving and stalling during recovery. Type of aircraft will govern the extent of unusual maneuvers; check pilot will use judgment in the execution and allowance for recovery.
8. Glides.—The pilot will place the airplane in a power glide without flaps, with appropriate air speed, safely above stalling speed, and make at least one 90° turn in each direction. Proficiency will be based on ability to maintain constant air speed and vertical speed and to execute turns smoothly.
9. Radio range employment and orientation.—(Use all instruments.) This portion of the test will start from a position unknown to the pilot and within 10 minutes of the radio range station. It will consist of tuning the radio to the station, orientation, and bracketing of beam and following it to the radio range station, recognition of the station, and a let-down using the standard procedure for that range and station.
10. Position plotting by "intersection."—Take bearings on at least two stations (three, if possible) and plot position on D/F chart.
11. Aural null orientation and homing.—Using aural null locate station and home. (Synthetic trainers may be used for position plotting by intersection and aural null orientation and low approach, provided ADF or loop equipment is not available on aircraft utilized for test.)
12. Radio compass low approach.—This portion of the test is to emphasize the simplicity of executing low approaches using the radio compass in COMP. position. Follow needle to station, turn to reciprocal of station to field course (terrain permitting). Lose  $\frac{2}{3}$  excess altitude out-bound, execute procedure turn, lose remaining excess, cross station, and make final descent to minimum altitude over field. Procedure will closely approximate standard low approach but no reference is made to range legs for lateral corrections of course or headings.

NOTICE TO INSURED

Insurance protection without cost to the insured expires with the termination of aviation cadet or aviation student status, and the insured is required to continue insurance by allotment of pay (W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 29) until permanently released from duty involving participation in regular and frequent aerial flights. Such allotment will continue while the insured remains in the active service, but when such flight status has terminated may be discontinued by the insured's completion and registration of notification of discontinuance of allotment (W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 30) and such insurance may be continued by direct remittance.

Premiums on National Service Life Insurance are due and payable monthly in advance, with a grace period of 31 days from the due date. The due date of a premium is the same day of the month as that on which the insurance became effective. If the premiums are to be paid direct to the Veterans Administration, there should be forwarded without further notice to the Collections Subdivision, Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C., a check, draft, or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States in the amount of the premium for the insured's attained age upon entry into aviation cadet or aviation student status (see reverse side of blank application form) within 31 days from the end of the period for which premiums were last paid by the United States Government, continuing future payments as they become due or within the grace period of 31 days from the due date.

When you receive the PIF material listed below, sign the bottom portion of this form, detach at the perforation, and return the receipt (properly executed) to your operations officer.

When you have read and understand the revisions and/or the additions, and have placed the sheets in their proper place in your copy of PIF, certify below, and turn the rest of the form over to your operations officer so that it may be placed in your Form 5 file.

IS YOUR COPY OF PIF UP TO DATE?

Here is a quick method of checking your PIF to make sure that you have all the revisions. If you have one page from each revision the chances are you have all the pages. So—

If page 2-19-1 is dated May 20 (in the top center of the page) you have revision No. 1.

If page 2-22-1 is dated Aug. 1, you have revision No. 2.

If page 1-1-1 is dated Oct. 1, you have revision No. 3.

If page 1-9-4 is dated Dec. 1, you have revision No. 4.

If page 3-1-1 is dated Jan. 1, you have revision No. 5.

If page 1-4-1 is dated Feb. 1, you have revision No. 6.

If page 2-9-2 is dated Mar. 1, you have revision No. 7.

If page 2-6-1 is dated Apr. 1, you have revision No. 8.

If any of the above pages are not properly dated order a copy of the appropriate revision from your operations officer. THIS IS IMPORTANT: Compare dates before changing pages. Insert only those pages which have a later date than the similar page already in your book.

PIF REVISIONS ARE BEING PUBLISHED EVERY MONTH. BE SURE THAT YOU KEEP YOUR PIF CURRENT WITH THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.

TABLE OF CONTENTS Pilots' Information File

When you place this form No. 24 in your PIF, remove the old form 24, dated November 1, 1943, sign it, and give it to your base operations officer.

In accordance with the provisions of AAF Regulation 62-15, dated April 9, 1943, all AAF pilots in the United States will certify that they have read and understand all instructions and information contained in Pilots' Information File. They will do so by signing in the space provided at the end of the Table of Contents. Remove the old Table of Contents for November 1, 1943 now. Sign it and give it to your Operations Officer for placement in your Form 5 file.

Subjects preceded by an asterisk (*) have been revised or added to PIF since Nov. 1, 1943. Be sure your copy of PIF contains all amendments. Read them carefully before signifying compliance on Form 24A.

Check with operations offices regularly to be sure you have all current amendments to PIF and Table of Contents. The Table will be revised quarterly and distributed on the same basis as the Pilots' Information File.

Blank spaces at the end of sections are for your convenience. Enter new subjects in their proper place as you receive them.

AWARDS OF DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS - - - - - I
AWARDS OF OAK LEAF CLUSTER TO DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS - - - - - II

I. Under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, 22 September 1943, as amended and pursuant to authority contained in letter, Hq Eighth Air Force, File 200.6, 23 September 1944, subject, "Awards and Decorations," the DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS is awarded to the following-named Officers.

EUGENE C. LA VIER, O-406290, Lieutenant Colonel, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Air Commander of a Combat Bombardment Wing composed of B-17 aircraft on a bombing mission over Germany 3 February 1945. On this date Colonel LaVier expertly accomplished a successful rendezvous and directed the aircraft under his command to the Initial Point in accordance with the designated flight plan. In the target area the formation which he was leading was subjected to an intense concentration of antiaircraft fire and one engine of the airplane which he was piloting was disabled. Colonel LaVier tenaciously maintained his position and led the formation over the assigned objective where bombs were released in a destructive pattern. He then capably accomplished the withdrawal from enemy territory. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by Colonel LaVier on this occasion reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Ohio.

ERIC T. DE JONCKHEERE, O-23838, Major, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Air Commander of a Bombardment Group and Bombardment Squadron composed of B-17 aircraft on bombing missions over Germany, 30 September 1944, 7 October 1944, 28 October 1944, 5 November 1944 and 22 January 1945. Throughout these operations Major DeJonckheere demonstrated superior flying ability and exceptional airmanship in directing the units to objectives of importance to the enemy. On 7 October 1944 adverse weather conditions were encountered enroute to the target. Upon arrival in the area of the objective Major DeJonckheere observed that the enemy installations were obscured by smoke. The assigned objective was located by triangulation and bombs were released with accuracy in the face of intense antiaircraft fire. Major DeJonckheere then competently led the formation back to base. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer on all these occasions reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from California.

JOHN T. DRESBACH, O-669223, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Mickey Operator of the lead airplane of a Bombardment Group and Bombardment Squadron composed of ction. On 28 September 1944 the Number Three and Number Four engines of the airplane were damaged by flak in the target area and had to be feathered. Despite the steady loss of altitude Lieutenant Kozak capably directed the aircraft to friendly territory. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer on all these occasions reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from New Jersey.

FREDERIC S. KELLEY, O-716659, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Navigator of a Bombardment Squadron composed of B-17 aircraft on bombing missions over Germany, 4 November 1944, 6 November 1944, 16 November 1944, 4 December 1944 and 12 December 1944. On these operations Lieutenant Kelley performed his duties in an exceptionally competent manner. Although antiaircraft opposition and unfavorable weather conditions were encountered on several occasions, he expertly navigated the airplane to important objectives where bombs were released with accuracy. The outstanding ability and exemplary devotion to duty evinced by Lieutenant Kelley contributed materially to the success attained on these missions. His actions were in large measure responsible for the safe return of the aircraft and crew. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by Lieutenant Kelley reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from New Jersey.

ROBERT H. WOOD, O-828620, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Pilot of a B-17 airplane on bombing missions over Germany and German occupied countries, from 25 September 1944 to 27 January 1945. Throughout these operations Lieutenant Wood evinced exceptional proficiency and an outstanding devotion to duty in attacking important enemy installations. On 15 October 1944 the hydraulic, electrical and oxygen systems of the airplane which Lieutenant Wood was flying sustained damage in the target area. Forced to leave formation, he capably effected the remainder of the flight to base without further incident. In the face of numerous hazards and difficulties encountered on many missions, Lieutenant Wood performed his duties in a distinctive manner. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from New York.

DONALD L. HILL, O-822905, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Pilot of a B-17 airplane on bombing missions over Germany, 19 September 1944, 30 November 1944, 11 December 1944 and 22 January 1945. On all these operations Lieutenant Hill exhibited singular proficiency and exemplary determination. On 19 September 1944 the airplane which he was flying was struck by antiaircraft fire in the target area. Lieutenant Hill remained in position and completed four bomb runs. On the return flight he became separated from the formation as a result of heavy cloud. Lieutenant Hill then capably completed the trip to home base alone. On 30 November 1944, 11 December 1944 and 22 January 1945, this officer comported himself with distinction, contributing to the success of the missions. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by Lieutenant Hill reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Minnesota.

plane in which Captain Osburn was flying sustained severe damage from flak, rendering one engine inoperative. In the face of the numerous hazards and difficulties involved Captain Osburn dexterously navigated the formation over the objective where bombs were released with accuracy. He then competently guided the formation back to base. Entered military service from West Virginia.

HARRY E. HASKETT, O-814896, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Pilot of a B-17 airplane on bombing missions over Germany and German occupied countries, 7 July 1944, 8 August 1944, 16 August 1944, 27 September 1944 and 7 October 1944. On these operations Lieutenant Haskett demonstrated a high degree of flying ability and exemplary determination. On 7 July 1944 a burst of flak started a fire in the bomb bay of the aircraft which Lieutenant Haskett was piloting. He tenaciously continued over the objective and after the flames were extinguished bombs were released with accuracy. On 27 September 1944 flak rendered inoperative all flight instruments except the altimeter and air speed indicator. Lieutenant Haskett withdrew from formation and competently completed the return flight to England where a safe landing was accomplished. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer on all these occasions reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Tennessee.

EARL F. SMYTHE, O-717905, First Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army. For extraordinary achievement while serving as Bombardier of a Bombardment Group composed of B-17 aircraft on a bombing mission over Germany, 3 February 1945. On this date the airplane in which Lieutenant Smythe was flying encountered intense antiaircraft fire shortly after arriving at the Initial Point. Although one engine of the aircraft was rendered inoperative and a crew member was wounded Lieutenant Smythe determinedly continued on the flight over the objective. He capably accomplished the sighting operation and bombs were released visually in a compact pattern. The extensive damage inflicted throughout the target area on this occasion was in large measure attributable to the exceptional ability and meticulous attention to detail evinced by Lieutenant Smythe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer reflect the highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Utah.

"Regardless of the relationship of my Adjusted Service Rating score to the present critical score, and such changes as may be made therein prior to the defeat of Japan, I elect to remain in the Army. I understand that as a result of this choice I will not again be considered for separation, under the readjustment regulations, until after the defeat of Japan. I prefer to serve in an active theater of Operations. I understand that subject to the dictates of military necessity I will be assigned, initially, in accordance with the choice I have indicated above, but after having been so assigned, will then be subject to such transfers as military necessity may require".

I do not desire to volunteer for further service under the provisions of above statement.

SUBJECT: Appreciation.

4 NOV 1945

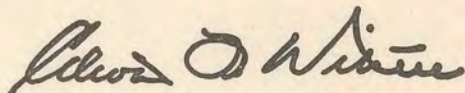

To: 1st Lt. Robert H. Wood, AC Res
503 Herkimer St.
Syracuse, New York

1. It is desired to express to you the appreciation of the War Department for your continued service to National Defense by your acceptance of an appointment as an officer in the Reserve Corps. Your aid and that of the other veteran officers who, like you, are displaying an active interest by remaining in the Reserve will be invaluable in building and maintaining a sound and effective postwar Army. You and your comrades by your counsel, your leadership, and your wholesome influence on public opinion may well make the difference between mediocrity and complete success.

2. AR 140-5 and the other Army Regulations governing the Officers' Reserve Corps necessarily will be revised to conform with such statutes as may be enacted to govern the postwar Army. The revised regulations and other information concerning the Officers' Reserve Corps will be made available in the future.

3. As soon as the press of work permits, a formal commission evidencing your appointment will be mailed to you.

BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR:
